

Somewhere to live

How to find out your options for somewhere to live.

For example

Supported living.

This option is for people with a learning disability or mental health needs who want to live as independently as possible.

This could be living on your own or sharing a home with others.

Shared lives.

You will be matched up with someone who will care and support you in their own home.

You might live with a shared lives carer for a long time or for a short break.

You might want support just in the day and this will be offered at the carers home.

There is also a support in your own home where the shared lives carer helps when needed.

Having a Care and Support Assessment

You will need to have a care and support assessment.

The council use this to make sure that your needs can be met and find the best way to support you.

To find out more about your options and about having an assessment.
